

FREE EXPERT THERAPY FOR EMTS, PARAMEDICS AND NURSES

PART OF OUR NO-COST MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES FOR THOSE WHO CARE FOR OUR COMMUNITY

With 88 years of experience, Council for Relationships is providing free mental health services via videoconference and phone to healthcare providers and others responding to the COVID-19 outbreak in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Council for Relationships

Founded in 1932, we are a non-profit organization helping people from all walks of life improve their important relationships by providing high-quality therapy.

We are committed to providing high-quality therapy services to all regardless of ability to pay.

Our team of more than 70 staff therapists (who work with our psychiatrists and interns) is ready to help valued medical personnel in this time of need.

Learn more and request an appointment at:
councilforrelationships.org/thosewhocare

Or call (215) 382-6680 ext. 1. Our Client Care Team is here to answer any questions you may have and to help you schedule an appointment.

Check us out on social media

COUNCIL FOR Relationships

Main Office:
4025 Chestnut Street,
First Floor,
Philadelphia, PA 19104